BIO

Jaxon Cox is a college student who specializes in classical cello. With years of experience in teaching and performing, Jaxon is a passionate musician who strives to bring the beauty of cello music to a wider audience. Currently, Jaxon is pursuing a bachelors in Music Performance, with the goal of becoming a professor of Cello. He began learning from the young age of 8 years old and was raised in a musical family. Jaxon studied cello at the Wyoming String Academy run by the renowned pedagogue Sherry Sinift, which he graduated in 2019. He served a mission for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints from 2019-2021 where he performed whenever possible to touch people's lives with music. Since then he has been studying cello with Dr. Beth Vanderborgh and performing in venues as far away as Goiânia Brazil. Recently he started up a small cello studio to help cellists of any age learn. Jaxon hopes to share the beauty and unifying power of music with everyone.

"Jaxon is a remarkable cello player, notably virtuosic in his phrasing and passages. When he plays you just get sucked in because of the magnetism and intrigue in his sounds. He is a very exciting player and interesting to listen to."

-Alice Cox

"Jaxon plays, not only with technical proficiency, but with a personal interpretation that makes clear his dedication and love for music."

-Clara Cox

DISCOVER

Cox Cello Studio is dedicated to helping those of all ages learn to play the cello. Jaxon Cox and his wife, Alice, team up to provide advanced musical education for anyone seeking to broaden their musical ability. Though cello is our main focus, we do teach piano for beginners.
